This web site takes users through the steps of writing a basic paragraph.

How to Use this Site or Start Writing Now!

Users develop an idea and write their own topic sentence, body, and a conclusion. The web site provides questions that help to guide users step by step through pre-writing, writing, organizing, editing, rewriting, and publishing.

Completed paragraphs may be transferred to a word processing program, HTML editor, or e-mail application.

We suggest that first-time users click here to read the instructions before beginning. Or start writing now by clicking here!

This web site is based on the popular writing skills program, Paragraph Punch. The complete Paragraph Punch program features five different ways to write a paragraph: through reasons, details, sequence, example, and cause and effect. It also allows instructors to monitor their pupils' work.

The current topic, "If you won a trip to Disney World, whom would you take with you and why?" comes from the "reasons" section of the program.

Periodically we will change the paragraph topic that is presented on the web site. If you have any suggestions or requests, please contact us.
